BIG FAIR OPENS

Bedford's Big Fair opened on Wednesday with the grandest exhibit ever offered to Bedford County people. The attendance was good from the outset and the State College exhibit was of the best. The shows and amusements are clean and entertaining for which the management may be proud. Stock exhibits surpass former years and the domestic and mercantile displays have had no equal. This promises to be the greatest ever. Everybody turn out to the Fair, Bedford County's opportunity for showing itself.

HENDERSON-EARNEST

J. Frank Henderson and Miss Gladys V. Earnest of this place were united in marriage at noon last Saturday at Christ Reformed Church, Altoona, by the pastor, Rev. O. S. Frantz. They were attended by the bride's sister, Miss Stella Earnest, and George Arnold. They have the best wishes of many friends.

ANALYSIS OF THE RESULT of the Voting in the Pine Tree State—Democratic Gains.

Washington, October 6.—Sufficient time has now elapsed since the election in Maine to enable the political experts to make their deductions from an analysis of the result of the voting in the Pine Tree State.

The effect of this analysis has been depression, discouragement and dismay in the Republican ranks and a corresponding feeling of optimism and rejoicing on the part of the Democrats. Both effects are warranted by the showing made. In addition to the election of a Democratic Governor and a Democratic Legislature, which means the control of the State government, the flat increase in the Democratic vote as compared with the Democratic vote for President in 1912 is more than ten times the flat increase in the combined Republican and Progressive vote for President in the same year. In other words the Democratic total was an increase of more than 10,000, while the combined Republican and Progressive increase was only about 1,000. The vote of 51,000 for President Wilson in 1912 was increased to more than 61,000 for Mayor Curtis, the Democratic nominee for Governor, or about 20 per cent.

These figures have staggered the Republicans, for their significance is ominous for them. Few, if any, Republicans have ever expected that their party would carry the next House of Representatives. The most that they have hoped for has been to cut down the big Democratic majority in the present House, but the vote in Maine has sent that hope glimmering.

The rate of increase in the Democratic vote in Maine if carried out and applied to the Congressional vote in other States would show a most astounding result and one which even the Democrats have never considered, but which speaks for itself.

An increase of 20 per cent. in the Democratic vote, as was made in Maine, applied to the Congressional districts elsewhere, would not only elect a Democrat from every district now represented by a Democrat, but it would, in addition, result in a net Democratic gain of upwards of forty members in the House. This is something which has given the Republicans pause and has greatly added to the aggressiveness of the Democrats.

Another significant showing in the Maine election is the fact that for the first time in seventy years, with one exception, the combined vote cast for Democratic candidates for Congress exceeded the combined vote cast for Republican candidates for Congress, which is clearly an endorsement of the national administration and its policies. Representative McGillicuddy, the Democratic member from Maine, based his claims for re-election upon the fact that he had been a consistent supporter of President Wilson and the measures put forth and enacted by the Democratic Congress. The result of a campaign along these lines was far better than the most optimistic Democrat had expected. Mr. McGillicuddy's plurality was increased more than four times what it was two years ago. In 1912 he had a plurality of less than 1,300, whereas this year his plurality was approximately 5,500, which was in excess of the combined pluralities of the successful Republican candidates for Congress. Only in the election of 1910, when there was a Democratic landslide in Maine, has the party been able to accomplish this result.

The showing was that the Democrat who stood for the Wilson policies was the man who gained tremendously in the esteem of his constituents.

MRS. NORMAN A. ADAMS

Mrs. Myrtle M., wife of Norman A. Adams, died in the Homestead Hospital on Wednesday, September 20, aged 38 years, two months and 19 days. She was the daughter of Andrew and Sarah Donelson of Middlebury, near Coalmont, and was married on June 21, 1894, to Norman A. Adams of Saxon. They lived at Duquesne for 15 years, then located in Homestead. Her husband and four children: Charles A., Alfred L., Inza V. and Leathie E. Adams, survive. She is also survived by one sister, Mrs. C. Rath of Saxon, and three brothers: James and William Donelson of Saxon and George Donelson of Jeromeville, O. She was a member of the Christian Church.

Funeral services were held in the Christian Chapel at Homestead Wednesday evening, and the body was brought to Saxon where services were held Saturday afternoon, conducted by Rev. F. W. McGuire of Saxon. Interment was made in Fockler's Cemetery.

MRS. WILLIAM PHILLIPS

Mrs. Elizabeth Anne, wife of William Phillips, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Paul Trout, at Swissvale, on Tuesday, September 15, aged 64 years. She was the daughter of the late Alexander and Margaret Kennedy, and spent most of her lifetime at Riddlesburg. She is survived by her husband, one daughter, six sisters and one brother. Interment was made in the Hopewell Cemetery.

MRS. FANNIE METZ

Mrs. Fannie Metz, widow of the late George R. Metz, died at her home near Woodbury Thursday afternoon of last week, aged 81 years. Her husband predeceased her in death fifteen years ago.

Funeral services were conducted at the Rehlogle Church of the Brethren last Saturday morning. Interment was made in the church cemetery.

Answers By Hundreds

Contestants Sticking Like Leeches. Interest Great and Very Few Go Wrong in the Answers. Many Are Sorry They Didn't Enter the Races.

Answers by the hundreds are pouring into The Gazette office from not only all over the county but all over the country. Many come from the West and South. All the contestants are sticking like leeches and are bent on winning one of the prizes. The interest in the contest is way beyond our expectations. More readers of the Bedford Gazette took up the contest than we ever dreamed would enter and many others have expressed regret that they did not decide to enter. We are more than surprised at the number of correct answers. It shows that our readers are alive, alert and intelligent.

What the Missing Words Were for Third Week

The missing word left out of page three was wish and should have appeared between you and to in W. E. Slanzenhoupt's advertisement. The missing word for page two for the fourth week of the contest begins with M and ends with R.

The missing word left out of page two was wish and should have appeared between you and to in W. E. Slanzenhoupt's advertisement. The missing word for page two for the fourth week of the contest begins with M and ends with S.

The missing word left out of page three was on and should have appeared between words meal and the. The missing word for the fourth week of the contest on page three begins with W and ends with S.

The catches have been numerous in this great hunt. The finding has been a little difficult but you must remember that people take no pleasure in the things that are easy. The pleasure comes from the hustling, hunting and skirmishing to win the prize, not in the prize itself. The fourth Waterloo is now on.

THE DUTY OF A GOOD NEIGHBOR

Rigid Quarantine a Moral Obligation in the Case of Contagious Diseases.

Every family which has a member ill with typhoid fever, scarlet fever, or other contagious disease, is entitled to the sympathy and intelligent help of the community. At the same time, the stricken family should realize fully that simple good citizenship calls upon its members to do everything in their power to prevent the spread of the contagion to neighbors.

In the country especially, where there are seldom health officers to impose rigid quarantines, the duty of keeping the sick separated from the well falls with peculiar weight on the afflicted family.

Ordinary neighborhood demands that such a family keep its members away from others and prevent outsiders from coming in contact with the infection.

On a farm producing and selling milk, a contagious disease, such as typhoid or scarlet fever, demands special precautions. A very few germs of these diseases allowed to get into the milk may multiply rapidly and be source of disease in many families on the milk route served by the farmer.

In the case of typhoid, the disease may come from germs in the well water, and this water if used unbottled for cleansing milk bottles or cans may very well start a typhoid epidemic in a neighboring town. Inspectors have frequently traced outbreaks of scarlet fever and typhoid along a milk route and back to a sick person on the producer's farm.

Healthy Hair, Soft, Fluffy and Radiant

Beautiful hair does not just happen to be so, but is always a matter of care and proper nourishment of the hair roots. No matter if your hair is falling out, stringy, lifeless and full of dandruff, Parisian Sage, an inexpensive tonic, sold by all drugists, is all that is ever needed. It nourishes the hair roots and stimulates the growth of new hair. Even dandruff is entirely removed with one application, and itching scalp and falling hair cease; your hair will be bright, vigorous, soft and fluffy.

Whether your hair is oily, dry or brittle, Parisian Sage immediately removes the cause, and by toning up the scalp quickly restores the hair to its original brilliancy and vigor.

Parisian Sage can always be had from F. W. Jordan, Jr., and is a delightful and easily applied treatment that will never fail to act as a real and lasting benefit to your hair and scalp.—Adv. Oct. 2, 2t.

Everett

September 30—James Hershberger is improving his Main Street property by having a concrete walk made in front of it.

Dory Smith of Asbury, N. J., shipped a load of fine cows from this point last Friday.

The dining room was tastefully decorated with autumn flowers, the dining table had for its center a large cake, beautifully decorated with teaberry candies, on which too was the name Alice and 10 and around the birthday cake were 10 burning candles. The little girls were given a two course luncheon which will ever be remembered by these little folks. Alice received a gift from each little friend. The guests present

First Dose Ends Indigestion, Heartburn, or Gas on Stomach

The question as to how long you are going to continue a sufferer from indigestion, dyspepsia or out-of-order stomach is merely a matter of how soon you begin taking Tonoline Tabs.

People with weak stomachs should take Tonoline Tablets occasionally, and there will be no more indigestion, no feeling like lump of lead in the stomach, no heartburn, sour risings, gas on stomach, or belching of undigested food, headaches, dizziness or sick stomach; and besides, what you eat will not ferment and poison your breath with nauseous odors. All these symptoms resulting from a sour, out-of-order stomach and dyspepsia are generally relieved five minutes after taking Tonoline Tablets.

Go to your druggist and get a $1 box of Tonoline Tablets and you will always go to the table with a hearty appetite, and what you eat will taste good, because your stomach and intestines will be clean and fresh, and you will know there are not going to be any more bad nights and miserable days for you. Tonoline Tabs fleshes you and make you feel like life is worth living.

Tonoline Tablets cost $1.00 for a 50 days' treatment. At druggists or mailed by American Proprietary Co., Boston, Mass.—Adv. 25 Sept. 4t.

were Alice Spear, Pauline Pepple, Evelyn Robinett, Mildred Beegle, Mildred King, Grace Sipes, Martha Horton, Mary Horton, Lillian Mortimore, Helen Oler, Helen Clegg, Virginia Kieffer, Charlotte McDaniel, Thelma Evans, Elizabeth Biddle, Katharine Fisher, Lois Hershberger and Marjory Gump.

Mrs. Joseph E. Thropp entertained a few friends Tuesday evening. The evening was pleasantly spent at cards, after which a lunch was served.

The stork visited Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Clevenger, Second Street, recently leaving with them a little son.

Attorney Joseph F. Biddle of this place was delegated by the Lutheran congregation to represent it at the Lutheran Synod which was held at Clearfield.

Rev. John Miller of Curry visited his son, Howard Simmons, and family over Sunday.

W. W. McDaniel and wife and J. E. McDaniel and family autoed to Huntingdon Sunday morning; they spent the day with Mrs. Ruth Replogle and returned home the same evening.

Will Carry Campaign Into Bedford County

Gifford Pinchot, Washington party candidate for United States Senator, will carry his campaign into Bedford County next Saturday, October 10th.

He will reach Bedford in the evening and will address an open air mass meeting in the Public Square at 8 p.m. Pinchot will come to Bedford from Everett.

On his tour through Bedford County Pinchot will be accompanied by B. F. Madore, Washington Party County Chairman. Others who will be in the party and speak will be Lynn A. Bruna of Hollidaysburg, the candidate for Congress from this district; Charles J. Hemminger of Rockwood, candidate for State Senate; and H. E. Wieden of Bedford, candidate for Representative. Other Washington Party leaders will be with the candidate on his tour through Bedford County.

Pinchot's visit to Bedford County is part of the state-wide tour he is making. He has already been in some fifty-six counties of the State and has met the voters and spoken in towns and villages. He has also carried his campaign to the gates of the mills and factories, personally meeting the men and discussing with them the issues of the campaign.

During his visit to Bedford County Pinchot will thoroughly explain his stand on all the questions now before the people.

Washington Party men in Bedford County are now making preparations for the coming of the candidate, and voters of all parties are invited to meet him personally and hear his speeches.—Advertisement.

IMPORTANT TO ALL WOMEN READERS OF THIS PAPER

Thousands upon thousands of women have kidney or bladder trouble and never suspect it.

Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

You may suffer a great deal with pain in the back, bearing-down feelings, headache and loss of ambition.

Poor health makes you nervous, irritable and may be despondent; it makes any one so.

But hundreds of women claim that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, by restoring health to the kidneys, proved to be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

A good kidney medicine, possessing real healing and curative value, should be a blessing to thousands of nervous, over-worked women.

Many send for a sample bottle to see what Swamp-Root, the great Kidney, Liver and Bladder Remedy will do for them. Every reader of this paper, who has not already tried it, by enclosing ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., may receive sample size bottle by Parcel Post. You can purchase the regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles at all drug stores.—Adv. 25 Sept 4t

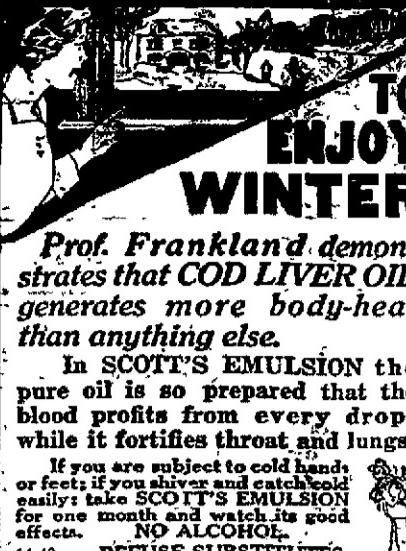

The Federal Reserve Banking System

Washington, D. C., October 6.—The fundamental change in our banking system made by the Federal Reserve Act of Congress of December 23, 1913, is of interest to all of our people. For years the great need for an elastic currency had been felt, but it was necessary that the government should provide safeguard against undue expansion or contraction.

This was done by the creation of the Federal Reserve Board with extensive powers over banking institutions. The United States has been divided into twelve districts, which have been apportioned with due regard to the convenience and customary course of business. In each of the twelve districts a federal reserve city has been designated in which a federal reserve bank has been established.

The federal reserve bank in each district is composed of the national banking associations in the district and is required to have a capital stock of at least $4,000,000. In case the national banks in the district fail to take all of this stock, private individuals and the United States may take it, but the stock will have no voting power. The enforcement of the federal reserve law is entrusted to the Federal Reserve Board, consisting of five members appointed by the President of the United States, in addition to the Secretary of the Treasury and the Comptroller of the Currency, who are ex-officio members of the board. The Board has its office in Washington, D. C. Two members of the board are required to be experienced bankers. Ten years is the term of office, and every two years the term of one member expires. The salary is $12,000 a year.

The most important powers and duties of the Federal Reserve Board are to exercise general supervision over the federal reserve banks; to sus-calls for prayer here in our own country.

I well remember the solemnity of the occasional special day set apart for prayer during the late Civil War by President Lincoln. How well I remember when our nation was in mourning for the many slaughtered sons and for scenes of devastation equal to those of the present day in Europe. Most of the battles were fought with a fierceness which no doubt were all the fiercer because they were between soldiers and sailors of their own country and nation. In 1861 President Lincoln set a day apart for prayer for the safety and welfare of these states and then a little, perhaps a year, later, another for the success of the union army. I think that there were other days set apart for prayer for various things as to the Great Civil War that was at that time devastating our country and making widows and orphans by the thousands. The Union soldiers were nearly all raw and but few of the officers had much training in the ways of war. Probably for these reasons whole regions were laid waste. Tens of thousands of our noblest sons and fathers were killed and hundreds of thousands were wounded on land and sea. Yes also on rivers, and how well I can now hear the "All quiet along the Potomac." Oh, I remember quite well that when President Lincoln issued the second proclamation setting aside a day of prayer asking all to pray for the success of the Union army that our whole country was in the greatest gloom. Heads were bowed and knees bent by all. Yes I remember how many in dear old Bedford, with trembling forms and trembling lips asked Almighty God to give success to the Union army. Yes and I remember one who most fervently asked God to forgive the men of the South who had by their actions brought on the war. The prayers of the holders of these notes collateral must be deposited with the Federal Reserve Agent for the district. Also, a reserve in gold of forty per cent must be maintained to protect the federal reserve notes outstanding. Provision is made for the automatic retirement of these notes.

The activities of the federal reserve banks are those of usual banking institutions. To give our currency system elasticity it has the power to issue federal reserve bank notes.

It is only in the discretion of the Federal Reserve Board that the federal reserve banks may issue these. They are redeemable in gold at the United States Treasury in the city of Washington, D. C. For the security of the holders of these notes collateral must be deposited with the Federal Reserve Agent for the district that occasion, however, did not avail much for good, as devastation and carnage still prevailed, great and bloody battles were being constantly waged after this day of prayer. Winter was upon our country and all kinds of suffering and privation were indescribable, thus adding to the killing and wounding of the best and noblest of fathers and sons; but the surrender of General Lee to General Grant put a stop to it all so far as the battles. Then came a day of thankfulness.

President Wilson's asking national prayer for cessation of international war is the first one of its kind in many, many years, and let us all trust that it may be the last in many more years. The thought of all this makes me sick at heart.

Do not forget the Fair and all that belongs to it.

Yours truly,
M. P. Heckerman.

ASTHMA AND HAY FEVER A GUARANTEED TREATMENT

"I have arranged with John R. Dull so that every sufferer from Asthma, Hay Fever or Bronchial Asthma in Bedford can try my treatment entirely at my risk," Dr. Rudolph Schiffmann announces. He says: "Buy a 50-cent package of my Asthmador or Asthmador Cigarettes, try it, and if it does not afford you immediate relief, or if you do not find it the best remedy you have ever used, take it back to John R. Dull and he will return your money, cheerfully and without any question whatever. After seeing the grateful relief it has afforded in hundreds of cases, which had been considered incurable, and which had been given up in despair, I know what it will do. I am so sure that it will do the same with others that I am not afraid to guarantee it will relieve instantaneously. The druggists handling Asthmador will return your money if you say so. You are to be the sole judge and under this positive guarantee, absolutely no risk is run in buying Asthmador."

Persons living elsewhere will be supplied under the same guarantee by their local druggist or direct by Dr. R. Schiffmann, St. Paul, Minn.

THIS IS CERTAIN

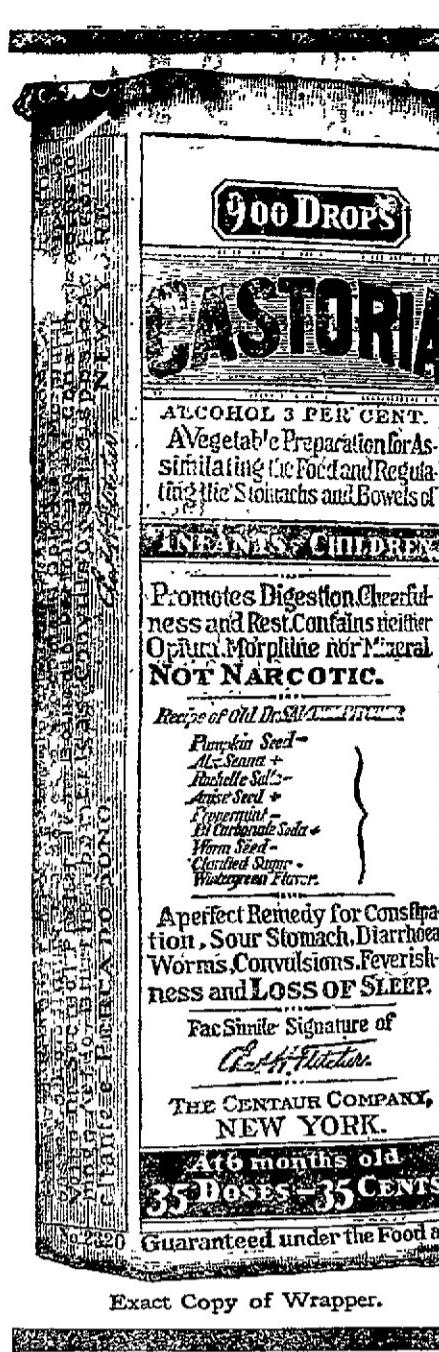

The Proof That Bedford Readers Cannot Deny.

What could furnish stronger evidence of the efficiency of any remedy than the test of time. Thousands of people testify that Doan's Kidney Pills have brought lasting results.

Grateful endorsements should prove undoubtedly the merits of this remedy. Years ago people right in this locality testified to the relief they have derived from the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. They now confirm their testimonials. They say that time has completed the test.

James Oler, N. Spring St., Everett, Pa., says: "It would be hard to describe the misery I endured from rheumatic pains and kidney trouble. I was lame and sore and hardly able to attend to my work. My back ached all the time and I had sharp twinges in my sides. A friend advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills and I got a box. I was surprised by their promptness in helping me. I continued using them and they cured me. I am glad to confirm my former endorsement of Doan's Kidney Pills. I use this remedy occasionally and it benefits my kidneys."

END OF THE BASEBALL SEASON

To the philosophic observer of daily life, the close of the baseball season offers food for reflection. There has now come to an end for the year 1914, one of the leading activities of the American people. It could perhaps be demonstrated that more people have seen ball games the past summer than have entered the doors of churches or schools.

A few moralists of extreme severity say it encourages men to waste valuable time, and incites to the vice of betting. As to the gambling, that is rather incidental. For the great majority, it is a form of happy activity that works against many evils. When a fellow is bowing on the grand stand, in encouragement of athletic skill, he is not injuring his body with dissipation, nor polluting his mind with low thoughts.

There is one objection worth considering. That is, the passiveness of the spectator's attitude to the game. It encourages too much the attitude of seeing other people do things.

When a player knocks a home run or fields a swift and stinging ball, the "fan" feels a thrill of elation. He is as proud as if he had done the thing himself. That may tend to discourage him from doing things in life, and may lead him to find his rewards, not in his own achievement, but in watching other people achieve.

As an outlet for superfluous energy and a distraction from vice, baseball must have an incalculable influence for wholesome living and thinking. It is a mistake though, when the "fan" lets his interest deter him from acquiring skill of his own in some favorite game. If he is so busy computing the percentages and discussing the plays of the league leaders, that he has no time left to practice some favorite and healthful sport of his own, baseball has not had its best result, for him.

THE COUNTY FAIR FAIRIES

One of the most picturesque types of American life is found in the fairies, barkers, side-show men, and rounders of a thousand kinds who follow the county fairs, circuses, and other places of out-door amusement. One may well wonder what becomes of these fellows when October frosts close up the business of open-air entertainment.

The barker is the soul of all these midways. Were it not for his good humor and persuasive eloquence, some of the jolly frauds would get their heads punched. The barker turns it off into a joke, and drops the wise suggestion that those who are strong would look handsomer if they kept still.

Ready and facile speech is the secret of success in the business of running these catch penny sideshows. Many of these midway orators have a quick wit and power of picturesque description that could be made very valuable in a more substantial calling.

Some of them would be found to be well educated men. The rolls of most schools and colleges have those, who from dissipation or indolence, drop out of the ranks of organized toil. Many a man who proclaims the wonders of the snake charmer or the fortune teller can quote his Virgil or his Horace.

Could one take a census of this gypsy fringe of the amusement world, it would be a numerous population. Shabby of dress, wily and elusive of eye, with a certain hardness of face, it is yet a harmless and kindly tribe of Ishmaels.

The fakirs live from immaturity and inexperience. The young fellow on $1.50 a day feels quite a lord, when he takes his best girl to the county fair. The painted mermaid, the sea serpent, are to him the opportunity of seeing life. Aspiring to penetrate the mysteries of the universe, here are chances for dime that cannot be missed. Gladly he pays the price, and in return gains his experience of the world. It may be a necessary part of his education.

EXPERIMENTING WITH DYE STUFFS

One of the incidents of the war situation is the difficulty American factories are finding in securing dye stuffs. The result will be an effort to make dyes in this country. Probably there will be some improvement in this very important branch of textile industry.

It is remarkable what poor work in the use of imported dye stuffs, and in the colors of imported goods, has been accepted in the past. Every man realizes how badly the average negligee shirt holds its color. It seems to make little difference whether the material is expensive or not. Often half a dozen washings fade the shirt so much that it looks old and worn out. Women of course, find similar trouble in many kinds of their clothing.

A manufacturer of textiles was asked why he did not take more pains to turn out fast colors. He laughed at the question, and admitted that it would cost but a trifling fraction of a cent a yard more to use colors that would be practically fast. "But who would buy them?" he asked.

He went on to say that the only people that seem to have a desire to get fast colors are those who can afford to throw away clothes long before they are worn out. Probably some manufacturers do not like to make colors too fast. It would encourage people to wear clothes too long. That would hurt trade.

The demand for better coloring of textiles has had much to do with the spread of recent years of the arts and crafts movement. These workers dug up the dye books of their grandmothers, when fabrics were often woven and colored at home, and when material was made to wear. They tested fabrics with long exposure to sun and rain, and produce colors that stand. They use vegetable dyes to a large extent, which are usually less harsh than chemicals and which blend into each other with more beauty.

In so far as American mills under present war conditions are experimenting with new dyes, they will find that firm colors will be appreciated by a growing number of people.

EFFECT OF THE WAR ON AMERICAN BUSINESS

The European armies so far, seem to have been supported mostly out of "war chests," vast sums previously amassed. But the borrowing of money has begun. This means that all of the contending people must for many years pay an extra tax. If the powers have any sense remaining, they will agree, when the war closes, on some reduction of armament.

The saving here might balance the heavier taxes caused by interest and payments on war loans.

Where the war will pinch bitterly is in the loss of earning power. Millions of families must now draw on their savings, and very likely exhaust them. The scale of living will be reduced. People will occupy poorer houses, eat less food, and cut out luxuries. Families that have lost the breadwinner must struggle on ill-fed and half nourished.

Europe cannot for the next decade buy so many American manufactured goods. It will not be able to eat so much grain and meat. While the war lasts, more food products will be bought in this country. Armies have to be fed, even if the children starve. So many farm workers have been killed, that agricultural production will drop in Europe after the war. So perhaps, in spite of the prospective poverty, Europe may permanently buy just as much of our farm products again.

The war will have at least three economic effects on American business:

1. Consumption of American manufactured goods by Europe will fall off.

2. Some new export trade should be developed by our manufacturers in Southern countries, on account of the crippling of European producers.

3. Business will be so disorganized in Europe for a period of years, that competition with American factories for our home market will be less severe.

Hence as far as effect on American business goes, there seem to be two favorable factors to one that is adverse. Hence there is every reason why business in America should advance confidently. Let every one save needless expense. But it is no time to hoard. If you can save a dollar take it to some bank, where it will help finance some good enterprise.

Wait Paint

There are painters and waiters. Which am I going to do? Paint or wait?

Which is better?

How much am I worth with my property waiting? How much if I paint? Will my house be worth more or less if I paint?

Say it costs $2 a gallon Devoe—I wouldn't paint any other—and $3 or $4 more for putting it on. That's $50 or $60 a 10-gallon job.

The money is gone. Is it in the house? Is it all in the house?

Suppose I were selling; what should I get for that house fresh-painted and what should I get for it needing paint?

I wonder why men paint before selling!

Palmer the Candidate to Defeat Penrose

The Public Ledger is being impelled to explain why it should recommend to its readers a preference for A. Mitchell Palmer in the Senatorial race over Gifford Pinchot. The answer is simple. The Washington party in Pennsylvania, as elsewhere in the country, is in process of rapid dissolution. Mr. Pinchot is, moreover, seriously handicapped by not being a bona fide resident of the State, not to mention his numerous economic vagaries. Of the 840,000 Pennsylvanians who in 1912 refused to follow the Penrose leadership further in the paths of disaster, nearly one-half were Democrats. Since that election the State Democracy has been entirely purged of the corrupt bipartisan supporters, who for years had used the Democratic name as satellites for the Penrose machine. Something over 400,000 Independent Republicans, by their open revolt, repudiated Penrosem in 1912, and it is scarcely believable, now that their party organization is disappearing, any considerable number of that host will abandon their convictions and return to Penrosem. It is very much more likely that they will cast their ballots for the candidate who gives the most promise of defeating Senator Penrose. In proof of this their candidate for Governor withdrew in favor of the Democratic nominee, which indicates the drift of the Independents.

Pretermitted the mere question of expediency, Mr. Palmer's high character and statesmanlike qualifications make him eminently fit to represent the State in the United States Senate. While it is true Mr. Palmer is opposed to the economic policies preferred by the independent Republicans, nevertheless there are principals more important than adherence to a particular economic doctrine. The fundamental issue before the independent Republicans today is a question of political morality, and until that issue is solved properly every other material consideration must be held in abeyance.

The election of Mr. Penrose this fall would serve only to widen the split in the Republican party and strengthen the purpose of the good citizenship of the country to effect a change. His defeat, on the other hand, would relieve the party of its present handicap, remove a reproach which alienated hundreds of thousands of independent voters, and unquestionably hasten the day when a Republican President and a Republican Congress can be restored at Washington.

BRUMBAUGH EXPRESSED IGNORANCE OF PENROSE

Told Riley M. Little He Had "Heard Some Things" About Standard Oil Senator.

Before Dr. Martin G. Brumbaugh was slated as the Republican organization candidate for Governor he met Senators Penrose and Oliver in a conference in Philadelphia and outlined for them where he stood on public policies.

Doctor Brumbaugh admitted this, according to the Rev. Riley M. Little, general secretary of the Society for Organizing Charity, when a delegation of Republicans, including Mr. Little and the Rev. Dr. Rufus Miller, called upon Doctor Brumbaugh and urged him to help eliminate Penrose.

How Doctor Brumbaugh refused to "eliminate Penrose" was told by the Rev. Mr. Little in an address at Lebanon on Monday night. Tuesday in Philadelphia he gave further details of the conference with Doctor Brumbaugh in which he revealed what Brumbaugh had admitted concerning his meeting in Philadelphia with Penrose and Oliver.

"When I first conferred with Doctor Brumbaugh," said Mr. Little, "he said he did not know anything about Senator Penrose, but had heard a great deal. Doctor Miller and myself urged him to make a straightforward fight for decency against the gang. I told him I thought it would be a great mistake for a man of his position to carry such men as Penrose back into power again."

Following this conference, he agreed to confer with other independent Republicans. Some time later he attended this conference at the Bellevue-Stratford. While Doctor Brumbaugh discussed his attitude in a general way, we apprised him that we knew he had conferred with Penrose, Oliver and other organization men. He admitted having attended such a conference. He said he was invited to a friend's house one night and upon his arrival there he found a number of Republicans, among whom were Penrose and Oliver.

"His version of that meeting was that they discussed the political situation and he told them where he stood on public measures and policies. Then he said that until he had heard something against Penrose he would not say anything against him.

"There would be no particular reason to call attention to these facts if Brumbaugh were not posing as a candidate without entangling alliances. In the political meaning of these words he has no entangling alliances, but is completely enmeshed with organization alliances.

"He declared in his platform it is time to be honestly frank and frankly honest with the people, but he has been neither. It would be more creditable to Doctor Brumbaugh to frankly avow that he is the organization candidate, supporting the ticket as he agreed to do.

"He does not believe in the retirement of Senator Penrose. The reason independent Republicans will not support him is because the things for which they have been working for years at Harrisburg have been defeated by the very men Brumbaugh is striving to re-elect.

"To proclaim his belief in a child labor law and yet campaign under the direction of Senators Crow, Kline, Snyder, McNichol, Vare, Salus, Penrose and the Grundies, is to do one thing in words and another in acts, because they are the ones who strangled the bill."

"To affirm his interest in a just workmen's compensation bill and stand with this same group of men in politics will make futile all his efforts for a workmen's compensation bill.

"It is ridiculous for him to travel over the State proclaiming his devotion to local option in company with the very good men who represent the liquor interests of the State. Just as good men as Doctor Brumbaugh have accepted the support of the Republican organization during the past fifty years, but have found themselves helpless in the Governor's chair."

A Way to Distinguish Twins.
Twin brothers who have been called up for service in a Paris regiment are so alike that it is impossible to distinguish between them. The other day one was confined to barracks, and by changing his cap, with its regimental number, for that of his brother he was able to pass the guard whenever he wished to go out. The colonel has now issued the following order to obviate such tricks: "The soldier bonhomme (even number) will wear his hair as long as the regulations, construed with the utmost leniency, will allow and will shave his beard and mustache. The soldier bonhomme (odd number) will allow his beard and mustache to grow full and will have his hair regularly cut as closely as possible by the regimental barber."—London Mail.

Thus spoke a lover to his lass. Deep in her eyes gazed he. Now, one fond kiss, one fond embrace—how sweet it was to see!

Oh, horror! Then her pu appeared. "What means this, sir?" said he. Then, with an angry snarl, he roared. "My sole goes out to thee!"—London Mail.

BULLETIN BOARDS COVER STATE

Republican and Other Party Leaders
Have Been Offered Use of Space on Board—First Bulletins Out.

Harrisburg, Oct. 4.—Another remarkable innovation in campaigning methods has been announced by the Democratic State Committee. Bulletin boards for the use of all political parties and other organizations engaged in the present campaign will be printed and posted by the committee in every part of the state.

Space on these boards has been reserved for each party organization, and Chairman Morris in a letter to the chairman of each of the other parties has formally offered the use of this space to the regular party organizations, and has pledged the co-operation of the state committee with the other committees in making it a fair and effective means of getting the actual facts from the point of view of the various parties before the voters.

No restrictions as to the form or contents of the argument to be presented by the various parties have been imposed by the Democratic committee, except only the general condition that each party shall help to maintain fair play in the use of the boards and that nothing shall be displayed that does not bear directly upon the campaign.

Chairman Morris in a letter to the chairmen of the other parties outlined the scheme as follows:

"The Democratic State Committee proposes to post in conspicuous places throughout the state a bulletin board containing spaces for the use of all the political parties, including your own. The space allotted to each party will be approximately 10 inches by 14 inches, and in that space we invite you to place in any form which you see fit facts and arguments to sustain the position of your party on the issues of the present campaign."

"This board is being printed and distributed at the expense of the Democratic State Committee, which will see to it that the Democratic column will be constantly supplied with fresh, forceful facts for the information and guidance of voters. To the end of securing a full, free and fair discussion of the questions now agitating the people of the state, we strongly urge your co-operation to the extent of keeping your party's space filled with similar material."

"I enclose, herewith, a copy of our first bulletin, which will give you the key to our plan."

"I shall be glad to answer any question regarding it or to co-operate with you in any other way in making this revival of the town meeting idea effective."

A further sidelight on the scheme is afforded by the first bulletin put out by the Democratic committee. It contains a cartoon, in which a caricature of Penrose is at one side, while on the other Dr. Brumbaugh, pictured as a mask and labeled "The Mask of Respectability," shields McNichol, Vare, Standard Oil, Special Privilege, Liquor Interests, Capitol Grafters and the Ward Heelers. Underneath the first picture is a title, "This is Penrose." Beneath the second, "This is Penrose." The bulletin is headed, "Why this Bulletin Board?" and reads as follows:

"Why should the Democratic party erect bulletin boards all over the state for every other party to set forth its claims to the voters?

"Simply because the Democratic party is the party of democracy. It sincerely believes in putting all the issues up to the people themselves. It wants the people to know all the facts, weigh all the factors and vote according to their enlightened and patriotic judgment."

"Of course, a political party must be very sure of itself—of its platform and of its candidates—to be willing to hire a hall, as it were, in which its rivals may speak."

"Well, that is so. Point for point, man for man, the Democratic case invites comparison with all the other parties."

"Because we trust the people's enlightened judgment, and because we esteem it a patriotic privilege to be able to bring the arguments of all parties before the voters for free discussion, we have erected this bulletin board."

"We invite the co-operation of all citizens in preserving it for its highest use."

The board is printed on heavy yellow cardboard, and is 48 inches in width by 22 inches deep. It is expected that before the end of this week several thousand of these boards will be in use. The Washington party and the temperance organizations of the state have agreed to co-operate and to use the spaces allotted to them by the Democratic committee. A miniature reproduction of the board is shown on this page.

ARE YOU FROM MISSOURI IF SO, I AM HERE TO SHOW YOU

We are stocked this Fall as we have never been before with the swellest line of men's, young men's and boys' Suits and Overcoats, Hats, Furnishings and Shoes. We have scoured the markets for the very best money can buy. If you are in any way skeptical, or if you are hard to please, we want you to come to us, and we will show you style, and we will also show you how much less we can sell you for. We clothe the entire family of boys. We love to show our goods whether you buy or not. The season's best in all lines is here. The imported weave, the latest cut—the goods are different. The reason we have always enjoyed such a fine business among the men, and the young men, is because we always give full value for every dollar spent with us.

SAFETY FIRST

A Safe Place for Your Savings and for Your Checking Account is Offered by The Hartley Banking Co.

BEDFORD, PENNA.

THE OLDEST BANK IN BEDFORD COUNTY

AS A RULE the higher the rate of interest the greater the risk. Better 3 per cent. with safety than a higher rate at hazard among strange people or banks. Money in this bank is doubly secured, being protected both by the abundant assets of the bank itself and by the unlimited liability of each and all the partners.

SINCE 1872, a period of 42 years, this bank has been standing, as it stands today, for fair dealing and right banking principles. Its directors and partners are successful business men of sound financial integrity. The bank owns its own substantial banking house in the center of the business section of Bedford. It has strong vaults and a safe fitted with time locks. It carries ample burglary insurance. It is a member of the State and of the American bankers' association. No depositor has ever lost a dollar of his money in this bank. What the bank has been doing for others it will do for you. You can deposit by mail if not in person.
